One of the original sirens of the Turks and Caicos, this Mediterranean-style resort sits on 11 acres of the island's famously powdery beaches, and in 2014 was named Hotel of the Year by the Turks & Caicos Hotel and Tourism Association. Renovated in 2010, the 82 suites clock in at 600 square feet or larger and sport a clean, contemporary look (sleek, dark wood furniture, a white-and-cream color palette).

The resort complex contains family-friendly villas and an eco-conscious kids' program, as well as an adults-only pool, restaurant and lounge bar. The 5,000-plus-square-foot gym and spa will appeal to health conscious guests and relaxation-seekers alike.

Room to Book: For an extra level of luxury, upgrade to one of the 22 oceanfront Estate rooms (with 11-foot ceilings and large terraces), which come with access to exclusive beach cabanas.

Insider Tip: For a sampling of authentic Caribbean dishes such as Jamaica pepper pot soup, stewed conch, and mango-and-coconut layer cake, don't miss the barbecue hosted on the hotel's beach every Thursday evening.
